Volunteering

Staffordshire University • September 2014 - June 2015

Student Peer Mentor

Being a peer mentor was an incredibly satisfying role as it provided me with the opportunity to help first-year students with any problems or issues they may be facing. I also feel that being a peer mentor has helped me to vastly develop my communication skills and confidence.

Clayton Hall Business & Language College • September 2010 - June 2011

School Prefect

My role as a school prefect during my final year of high school gave me the opportunity to experience dealing with people and enforcing rules. During this period I was able to improve upon my social skills and confidence, as well as gain experience working as part of a team.

Bradwell Hospital • March 2010

Social Services Volunteer

Whilst volunteering at Bradwell Hospital within the social services sector I was able to gain first-hand experience helping out members of the public wherever possible. I was also fortunate enough to see what it was like working in different departments, such as catering, portering, administration, and domestics and gained experience working in different teams and meeting new people.
